Feeding Molasses this Summer

Unlock the value of your cost-effective home grown feeds by improving fibre digestion and feed efficiency.

A way to supply a good source of sugars and fermentable energy, essential in any well-balanced diet to help maximize herd health, performance and fertility is by feeding a molasses blend. This also helps fuel the rumen microbes, stimulating dry matter intake.

Key Benefits:

Improving Dry Matter Intake

During grazing, a well-balanced buffer feed can ensure dry matter intakes are achieved.

Balancing the Rumen

Balancing the rumen by adding in sugar to stimulate the starch and sugar bacteria needed alongside forage for milk production.

Reduces sorting and increases palatability

Stops livestock searching for the tastier elements of the ration, whilst also masking the bitter taste of certain minerals. This ensures a consistent ration is consumed across your herd or flock.

Cost-Effective

With volatile replacement feed prices, a high protein liquid feed that could be used to reduce costs, minimise expensive feed purchases or extend current purchases forward.
